Looking for a ride? We can help.

Use this resource guide to find the best transportation services for you.

Now in its 9th edition, the Getting There Guide, produced by the Denver Regional Mobility and Access Council (DRMAC), helps Denver area residents identify a variety of transportation options. The Getting There Guide is intended to help bridge the transportation gap of local citizens with mobility challenges, thus helping them live as independently as possible.

Getting the most out of the Getting There Guide

The Getting There Guide is designed to help you find the best transportation solutions for your individual needs.

This Guide is organized by type of transportation provider and lists a variety of services available to Denver area residents. Learn more about your options on the right to help you get where you need to go.

- Traveling independently? Online trip planning tools help you explore a variety of options including bus, train, biking, and walking. Go to Online Tools, pg. 3.
- Do you prefer public bus and rail services? Fixed route options stop at consistent locations and operate on a frequent regular schedule. Go to Fixed Route, pgs. 2-3.
- Need to schedule a low-cost ride from your home? Human Service organizations provide rides to appointments necessary for healthy living. Fares are subsidized. Go to By Appointment, pgs. 4-7.
- Interested in finding a ride from someone living near you? Some communities have volunteer drivers who provide transportation to medical or other appointments. Go to Volunteer Driver Programs, pgs. 8-9.
- Heading out of town? Airport transport and CDOT's Bustang service can help get you on your way. Go to Airport Transport, pgs. 10-11 and Bustang, pgs. 10-11.
- Still looking for the ride that's right for you? Private providers can often schedule transportation on short notice or tailor services to meet your individual needs. Go to Other Options, pgs. 12-15 or Rideshare Services, pgs. 10-11.

Local Coordinating Councils (LCCs)

While DRMAC is the Regional Coordinating Council and voice for mobility and access for all, Local Coordinating Councils (LCCs) take on this role at the county level. A Local Coordinating Council (LCC) is an alliance of community organizations, individuals, local governments, and other interested parties working together to identify and fulfill the public and human service transportation needs of their counties. Key target populations include older adults, people with disabilities, and low income populations. The following LCCs are currently active in the Denver region. Interested? Attend a meeting or contact a representative in your area.
